Lighting Designer
Ithaca College, McCarroll Theatre
Fall 2023
Director: Marc Gomes

This upcoming work began in the Spring of 2023, having the show currently beginning the rehearsal process. X is a psychological horror play, with the world having an unreliable sense of reality due to having nothing for the world of the play to ground itself with. The overall look of the show is dark and disorienting look, having the page-by-page breakdown of the show for the lighting showing a trend of becoming darker and a lot more disgusting overtime.
